Voters Say 'Yes' AG Says 'No'

MILLBURY - Voters at the September Town Meeting approved an article on the warrant to amend the Town's General bylaws by adding a section to place limits on the spillage of electromagnetic fields (EMFs) associated with transmission lines. The bylaw also called for all existing transmission lines to be brought into compliance with the bylaw within five years of its passage.

On December 19, Town Clerk Oran David Matson was notified by the Office of the Attorney General that the by-law was disapproved.

In his findings, Assistant Attorney General Anthony E. Penski wrote, "This disapproval is based upon the fact that, under state law, the regulation of such transmission lines is committed to state agencies and not to individual municipalities. By statute, the Department of Public Utilities has general supervisory authority over all electric companies. This authority includes exclusive jurisdiction in the area of the safety and convenience of the public. In addition, the Energy Facilities Siting Council has jurisdiction over the location, placement and types of high-voltage transmission lines pursuant to G.L. c. 164, Sections 69G-69K. Once a site approval certificate has been issued by the Siting Council 'no ... local government [may] impose or enforce any law, ordinance, bylaw, rule or regulation ... which would delay or prevent the construction, operation or maintenance of [a] facility." G.L. c. 164, section 69K.

Penski also wrote that case law "leads to an inescapable conclusion that the regulation of safety issues is left solely to the authority of state agencies.

Penski said that while the Attorney General's office appreciates the safety concerns of the town, "these concerns must be addressed in ways other than by that proposed in Article 7. The powers granted to municipalities by the Home Rule Amendment do not extend to an authorization to enact local regulations which are inconsistent with state law, G.L. c. 43B, Section 13, or which conflict with comprehensive statewide legislation."

Alexander G. Belisle, a proponent of the bylaw and an abutter to Mass. Electric's Grafton Street substation, has arranged for an informational meeting on the subject of EMF on February 6 at 7:00 p.m. at the High School Library. The public is invited.

Tuttle Will Not Run

MILLBURY - Citing increased business commitments, Alan Tuttle, who came within 13 votes of defeating incumbent Representative Paul Kollios (D) in the 7th Worcester District race in 1990, has announced that he will not run for the seat in 1992. Tuttle, who ran as an Independent in 1990, said he was making the announcement at this time, "so that anyone interested in challenging the incumbent can come forward, whether that person be Republican, Democrat or Independent." He also said he wanted to make it known that his committee has "a network of dedicated, concerned individuals in place if the right candidate should come forward. A sincere candidate," he said, "with our philosophy of downsizing government, someone who is not a career politician, who believes in a citizen's legislature, who will look out for the interests of all the citizens in Millbury, Oxford and Auburn, regardless of their past support or party affiliation."

Tuttle also said he hoped financial considerations would not keep anyone from running. "We ran a campaign for $15,000 in the last election. Our opponent spent somewhere in the vicinity of $50,000."

While refusing to be specific, Tuttle said he has already been contacted by two individuals who have expressed an interest in meeting with his committee.

MILLBURY - St. Brigid's CYC will present Peter Dee's "Voices from the High School," January 30 and 31, and February 6, 7, and 8 at 8:00 p.m. in the Parish Hall on Main Street.

"Voices from the High School" made its world premiere at the Boston University Theatre Institute in 1982. Dee wrote this play as a composite of vignettes that depict real-life situations in the life of teens. Dee believed that too often, secondary school actors and directors are not given the opportunity to participate in realistic, contemporary teen theatre due to the fact that too few plays are written expressly for them. Baker's Plays commissioned New Dramatists and Circle Rep playwright Peter Dee to write "Voices from the High School" so that teen actors might find the opportunity to share with their fellow students, parents, teachers and administrators, the joys and difficulties of being forced to grow up too fast in America.

Judy Klemesrud of the New York Times wrote of the play, "This is not the usual high school play. Some of the vignettes are devastatingly honest. They might prove too controversial for some (each scene was developed from the standpoint of interviews by teens in modern America). But what is important about this play is the element of truth to which each vignette is portrayed, the element of the 'voice'. It represents the laugh and cry of those desperately wanting to be listened to. And the power of this truth is an awesome responsibility; it gives us hope, changes lives, it lives in a place within each of us forever. 'Voices from the High School' requires a commitment to this truth, and a desire to share it with one's community."

This play is recommended for all audiences and is produced with the permission of Baker's Plays, Boston, MA.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the end of each Mass at St. Brigid's Parish or at the door the night of each show. Ticket prices are $7.00 for adults, $3.00 for children under 12, and $5.00 for Senior Citizens.

Board Considers Burnap Rd. Changes

By Alec G. Belisle

SUTTON - At the January 21 Selectmen's meeting, the board held an informal hearing on a proposal to consider making Burnap Road one way going north. At issue is a triangle of land at the intersection of Burnap Road and Central Turnpike presently owned by John Kuchinski.

The discussion revolved around the town's use of the leg of that triangle that goes towards Oxford. "The question is," said Town Administrator Dexter Blois, "whether the town has the right to use that." The October Town meeting voted to purchase that land for $14,500.

A suggestion was made to the board to make Burnap one way from Central Turnpike towards Armsby Rd. to eliminate a purported safety problem created for someone coming out the lower leg of the triangle and making a right hand turn towards Oxford. Because of the dip in Central Turnpike, it was said the turn would be dangerous and creates a safety problem.

Blois said the concern of the Highway Superintendent and the Police Chief is that there is poor sight distance because of the way the road dips down. They recommended that the road be made one way. Blois recommended that the board consult with residents and explain what is being considered. He also said the town could take the land by eminent domain but it is likely that Kuchinski would fight the taking, escalating the cost plus the legal fees to more than the $14,500.

David Lavallee said that he feels that having to take a left hand turn from Central Turnpike onto Burnap would be

Glodis Endorsement

To the Editor:

As a lifelong resident of Millbury, I would like to encourage Guy Glodis to run for State Senate. Guy Glodis is a dedicated, intelligent individual who would fight hard to represent the needs of Millbury residents.

Guy Glodis would be an effective and productive leader, concerned with the well-being and future of our town. Guy is certainly a breath of fresh air and it is my earnest hope he will become a candidate for State Senate.

A Vindictive Blow?

To the Editor:

As we ring in 1992, I would like to thank Rep. Paul Kollios (D) of Millbury for taking a leadership role in trying to protect our environment and the rights of students to do the same.

Unfortunately, the people of Massachusetts were dealt a vindictive blow on Beacon Hill. In the last hours of the 1991 legislative session, Governor Weld and the legislature passed a bill that outlaws student funding of advocacy groups. The group most directly impacted by this law is MASSPIRG.

MASSPIRG, the Environmental Lobby of Massachusetts, and many other environmental organizations have been lobbying long and hard for a strong recycling and packaging bill. A number of legislators, fed up with the 'pressure' from these groups and people like myself who have pressing hard for good legislation, decided to retaliate by using their power as legislators to pass a bill which cuts out the funding for MASSPIRG's student lobbying program.

Despite political pressure from his colleagues, Rep. Kollios voted against the passage of this bill which indicates to me his commitment to integrity in the legislature as well as to a strong environmental voice in our state. The people of Millbury, Auburn, Oxford, should tip their hat to him and hope that the new year will bring better news for legislative integrity, for MASSPIRG, and for the state of our environment.

Syd Brodsky
Millbury

[EDITOR'S NOTE: the bill referred to by Mr. Brodsky was covered in our "Beacon Hill Roll Call" on two occasions, one of which explained the bill as follows: "...a bill changing the system under which college students can be assessed a fee for Mass PIRG and other non-partisan organizations. Current practice allows student governments to place a fee for these organizations on each student's bill with the provision that any student may elect not to pay the fee. The bill would require a student to request that the fee be placed on his or her bill. Supporters said this is fair because it simply makes the checkoff positive rather than negative. They also noted the checkoff system is set by statute and can only be changed by the legislature. Opponents said the bill is an anti-MassPIRG one which takes away the rights of students to run their affairs and will hurt MassPIRG. They claimed students themselves have the power to change the system from negative to positive."]

Right to Know

To the Editor:

In your recent "Another Point of View" column entitled "Term Limits vs Dick Moore," Lawrence Moore did an excellent job explaining why limits on terms for state office holders has become a necessity.

I feel that the article was well done, not only because I agree with his premise, but also because of the gentlemanly way he presented his argument against a highly respected representative. Although I disagree with the argument against limits, I respect Rep. Moore for taking a stand, even though it is probably not shared by most of his constituents. Everyone has a right to know how their elected officials stand on major issues.

On the issue of term limitation, the readers of this paper now know how Representative Moore and Senator Amorello stand: how about the Representative from Millbury?

It was most interesting reading in a Boston paper recently, a poll taken regarding educational reform. Senator Amorello and Representative Moore gave their opinions on the questions. But the representative from Millbury was undecided on two thirds of the questions.

With educational reform being one of the most important topics today on Beacon Hill, can you believe that a former school teacher, having spent over a decade in Boston, is undecided on an issue such as tenure?

The public has a right to know.

Another Point of View

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.....YOU!

By Lawrence Moore

It might seem strange, in January, to be thinking of Santa Claus. It is strange. But why not? We live in a strange world, in a strange society, in a society where getting without giving has been accepted by millions of our compatriots.

What began a half-century ago as a temporary program to alleviate problems brought on by the "Great Depression," blossomed into caring for the problems created by the aftermath of World War I, the influx of immigrants, and the relocation of masses of the population to the industrial North. Those of us old enough to remember, will recall that it was known as "relief." Then, as the bureaucracy in place to administer "relief" saw the need diminish for the program in its original scope, the hand-wringers and do-gooders seized upon the plight of many unfortunate displaced workers, immigrants and minorities and metamorphosed the program into "Welfare".

As the program grew, the takers grew. Welfare competed with minimum wage, and was chosen by many as the more attractive alternate. As the program grew, the bureaucracy grew. The takers multiplied, until today, welfare is a way of life for millions of Americans.

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Leo Club Plans Earth Day

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The January 21 Selectmen's meeting convened a little after seven with three members present: Chairman Jude Cristo, Donald Gauthier, and Gerald Bleau.

Interchange Committee

Prior to Administrative Assistant Earl Chase's weekly report, a letter from State Representative Richard Moore was read relative to meetings being held by the Rte 146/90/20 Citizens Advisory Committee. The Committee was established by the Legislature to oversee issues that develop in relation to the extensive work proposed for that area.

Moore, Chairman of the Committee, said that at a January 9 meeting held in Worcester, the "meeting format developed into more of a public hearing than I believe was intended by the creation of the Citizen's Advisory Committee. Perhaps that was the result of the seating arrangement or lack of any predetermined agenda," he wrote.

Moore also said that it was not his intention to revisit the issue of project feasibility or desirability again. "Those issues," he said, "I believe, are decided in the affirmative and it is the general consensus of the community to move ahead."

According to Moore, in the future there will be a conference table arrangement with the participants to be committee members and project management representatives with an agenda and press release mailed to participants a week in advance. Participation by an audience will be limited to written questions on agenda items to be left with a committee member or mailed within ten days of a meeting or through contact with a committee member. Committee members or project representatives may submit items for the agenda two weeks prior to the fourth Thursday of each month when meetings are to be held. Meetings are expected to last only 90 minutes.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:15 A.M. at the Millbury Town Hall.

Leo Club Project

Robert Vigneau appeared on behalf of the Leo Club, a youth affiliate of the Lion's Club. He reported that 7th and 8th grade students who are members of the Club will be holding an Earth Day program on Saturday, April 25th. At that time, they will conduct a clean up campaign of the major highways and park areas in Town.

Vigneau said dumpsters will be donated by Frank Rubbish Removal and that Wheelabrator will not charge any dumping fees for that effort. Volunteers will be welcomed.

Gauthier suggested that Vigneau contact church youth groups.

Vigneau said it is hoped that other organizations will become involved, such as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Cristo suggested that Vigneau get in touch with Highway Surveyor Joe Chase for use of a dump truck and inform the Police Department of the date of the program.

The Board voted 3-0 to support the Earth Day program with a proclamation proclaiming April 25, 1992 as Earth Day in Millbury in support of the Leo Club Program.

Grant Application

Town Planner Dave Hulseberg appeared before the Board to request their support for an application for a grant available to the Town under a Federal Emergency Management Agency Grant for public education on properties lying in a flood plain, such as in Millbury along the Blackstone River. Hulseberg noted that the proposal would use students in graduate school to develop information for a brochure for public education. He also said the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency looks favorably on the application.

The Board approved Hulseberg's request 3-0.

Shooting Gallery

Michael Tashjian, representing himself and his two brothers, Steven and Mark, presented a proposal to the board for a license to open a public shooting gallery to be known as "Range Master" on property located at Rte. 146 next to Route 146 Supply. The facility will include a retail store for the sale of arms and ammunition with a rear shooting range to be designed and built under NRA guidelines.

Tashjian said construction would provide for a low decibel noise level with booths for individual stations for firing of small fire arms. Some stations will be made accessible for police firing practice as well, he said. The whole complex will be enclosed.

Tashjian said the business will be run with some member of the family on the premises whenever the store and range are open. He also emphasized that there will be strict security and emphasis on safety.

Cristo said the area was appropriate for this type of use since it is not residential. He told Tashjian that the Board would delay a vote for a license at this time until he presents his proposal to the Planning Board and has discussions with the Police Chief on security for the facility.

Board of Health Issues

The Selectmen met with the Board of Health to address concerns with a petitioned by-law for the Annual Town Meeting that proposes free dumping for citizens over sixty five and for the handicapped and disabled. Board member James Morin said the wording of the article was too broad and could make monitoring at the Transfer Station difficult.

Cristo suggested that the Board of Health meet with the

BEACON HILL ROLL CALL

BOSTON: This week's "Beacon Hill Roll Call" records the votes of Senator Matthew Amorello (R-Grafton) and Representatives Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge) and Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) on rolls calls from the weeks of January 13-24.

"Beacon Hill Roll Call" is a clear and concise compilation of the voting records of area state representatives and senators on Beacon Hill.

This year, more than 800 bills have been filed for consideration. "Beacon Hill Roll Call" provides a summary and analysis of each bill, as well as arguments from the floor on each side of the issue. Combined with each official's vote or lack of vote on the issue, the column gives readers an opportunity to monitor their state legislators' actions at the State House. The number of each bill is also included, and, since many bills are reported when they receive initial approval, readers have the opportunity to contact their elected officials and express their feelings before the measure is up for final approval.

This column is prepared for the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle by Bob Katzen of Bay State News Service. Katzen has covered the legislature for WRKO Radio in Boston and was the host of a call in radio talk show on WMRE Radio in Boston.

WEEK OF JANUARY 13-17

REDISTRICTING PLAN (H 1992) - House 97-51, Senate 16-15, approved the controversial Democratic-sponsored redistricting plan reflecting the state's reduction from 11 district into 10 based on the 1990 census. The plan pits incumbents Chet Atkins (D-Concord) and Joe Early (D-Worcester) against each other in a newly formed Third Congressional District which includes both Lowell and Worcester. Supporters said the plan is a fair one which meets all legal requirements and will survive any court challenge. Opponents said the plan is an incumbency protection one which divides 16 towns and dilutes minority voting strength. Amorello and Kollios voted against the plan. Moore voted for the plan.

REPUBLICAN PLAN (H 1992) - House 110-39, Senate 21-12, rejected a Republican sponsored alternative redistricting plan. Supporters said the Republican plan is a better one which is contiguous, compact, and meets all guidelines. They argued it also creates a fair and honest district of minority influence. Opponents said the Republican plan has not been the subject of any public hearings and is designed simply to create seats which Republicans can win. Amorello voted for the Republican plan. Moore and Kollios voted against the plan.

UNITE COMMUNITIES (H 1992) House 115-21, approved an amendment placing Dracut in Lowell's district and making several other changes in the plan. Amendment supporters said this reunites Lowell and Dracut and makes whole several divided communities, including Bedford, Dracut, Methuen, North Andover and Wayland. Opponents said the amendment splits eight out of nine precincts in Chelmsford and will create a nightmare. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

LATE SESSION - Senate 20-11, suspended rules to allow the session to continue beyond 8 p.m. Supporters said this will allow the Senate to reconvene after Governor Weld's State of the State speech and finish work on the redistricting plan. Opponents argued work can be continued the next day and said late night sessions are irresponsible and unnecessary. Amorello voted against continuing beyond 8 p.m.

WEEK OF JANUARY 20-24

WATERSHED (H 397) - House 131-10, gave near final approval and sent to the Senate the bill restricting development around the Quabbin, Wachusett and Ware reservoirs and authorizing the state to borrow some $135 million to buy undeveloped land nearby to protect the reservoirs. Supporters said the bill will protect these reservoirs which feed the drinking water supply for over two million metropolitan Boston residents. They claimed inaction will cost the state up to $1.5 billion in expensive filtering systems. Opponents said the bill is flawed, costly, hurts landowners and is full of overregulation. They also noted there is nobody in the Senate representing the Wachusett area because that Senate seat is vacant and said this will be unfair when the bill reaches the upper branch. Moore and Kollios voted for the bill.

RULE SUSPENSION (H 397) - House 97-35 and 87-33, suspended rules to allow immediate consideration of the watershed bill. Supporters said this is not a new bill and noted the House passed it overwhelmingly last year. Opponents said the bill is on a fast track and argued the measure should go to the Ways and Means committee to determine the price tag. Moore and Kollios voted for the rule suspension.

AIRPORT (H 397) - House 95-41, rejected an amendment prohibiting construction of a regional or international airport within a ten mile radius of the Wachusett or Quabbin reservoir. Amendment supporters said there is a site being considered five miles from the Wachusett and argued it would have major adverse effects on the watershed. Opponents said an airport will not hurt the Wachusett and charged opponents of the airport are simply using this inappropriate vehicle to stop action on those plans. Moore voted against the prohibition. Kollios for the amendment.

LANDFILL (H 397) - House approved 72-69, then rejected 83-56, an amendment prohibiting any regional landfill within 5,000 feet of the Wachusett or Quabbin reservoirs. Amendment supporters said a landfill is being considered within 1700 feet of the reservoir and claimed it will cause major problems. They noted landfills also attract rats and pollutants. Opponents said the landfill site is downstream from the Wachusett reservoir and argued pollutants will not flow uphill. They also argued the amendment sets a bad precedent and undermines the process of solid waste siting which was set up to deal with these issues. On both roll calls, a "yes" vote is for the 5000 feet prohibition. A "no" vote is against the prohibition. Moore and Kollios voted for the prohibition on both roll calls.

EARLY RETIREMENT (H 1998) - House 130-0, gave near final approval and sent to the Senate the bill providing incentives for state workers to retire early. The measure also incudes a five percent cost of living increase for current state and local retirees. Supporters said the measure will eliminate thousands of people from the state payroll, avoid further layoffs, and save millions of dollars. Moore did not vote. Kollios voted for the bill.

15 YEARS SERVICE (H 1998) - House 71-60, rejected an amendment striking a section of the bill allowing any employees with 15 or more years of service to retire and receive their annuities and pensions ranging from 21 to 33% of their wages based on a sliding scale. Amendment supporters said we should not allow young, 33 year old employees to retire and collect hundreds of thousands of dollars for the rest of their lives. They argued this is not the intent of early retirement which should focus on older workers. Opponents said this option is a good one which will save millions of dollars and also keep people from being laid off. (A "yes" vote is against allowing anyone with at least 15 years of service to be eligible. A "no" vote is for allowing them to be eligible.) Moore voted "no" and Kollios voted "yes."

LOTTERY (H 1998) - House 70-61, rejected an amendment providing that if the number of eligible applicants for early retirement exceeds the allowable cap, a random lottery be held to choose the early retirees. Amendment supporters said this will replace the first come first served basis in the bill which would create chaos and is unfair to older and disabled workers and those who live in Western Massachusetts. Opponents said a lottery is not necessary and argued overnight delivery services will give everyone an equal chance. Moore and Kollios did not vote.

dangerous. He also said the town should consider the Planning Board's concern that additional traffic from golf tournaments at Pleasant Valley would be dumped onto Boston Road.

"We have not made a decision," said Board member Mary K Connor, "but just wanted to get people involved in making the decision. I'd like to hear people's comments; what do people say that have to travel it?" she asked.

Among the concerns which residents brought up, safety was by far the most important. This concern was articulated by Blaise Nagy, Paul Metzger, Theresa McCullough, and Richard Trudell.

Board Chairman Dave Strieby concluded the dialogue by assuring the residents, "Nothing will happen until everyone is notified."

Administrator's Update

Blois told the board that there has been no construction on Hartness Road for the last few days. He said construction has stopped, in part, because the developer is behind in inspection fees. Blois said he has been working on replacing three bonds taken out by Sutton Valley Corp. for their project off Hartness and converting them into one bond. He said he was somewhat uncomfortable with the three bonds since the outset: two performance bonds for $200,00 and a cash bond for $90,000. According to Blois, there is, at present, a gray area in the performance bond guarantee.

"The town is indirect party to two $200,000 bonds. These bonds guarantee performance of a contract between a contractor and a developer," Blois explained. "The town has the right to take that bond and use that bond. If the contractor and the developer back out, the bond is basically useless because the bond is tied to the contract."

Under the new arrangement, Blois said, the insurance company is agreeable to come up with a $485,000 "commit" bond which will be payable to the town directly without any third party involvement, as well as an amount to cover the drainage which the developer agreed to install. He said that if the selectmen approve the substitution, it will free up monies that are payable to the town for inspection fees.

Alfred Maki, Attorney for Sutton Valley Corp. explained that bond is actually a performance bond for $522,000. The $485,000 amount is for roads with an additional $39,000 to pay for laterals.

Selectman Mike Chizy asked why the town didn't have this bond from the beginning. He said that the town should not have allowed construction unless the town was 100%% sure.

Board member Wallace Johnson agreed, saying that the town should not approve any project unless they are 100% sure.

Blois responded that the developer could not get this amount in the beginning and, though Blois was 99 44/100% confident with the bonds they did receive, he wanted to change it so that there would be no problem repairing the roads.

Selectman Rick LaBonte said he had some reservations about giving up the $90,000 in cash which the town presently holds as a pass book bond.

Blois said the town could ask for a performance bond less the $90,000 but that it has been past practice of the town to ask other developers to provide either a cash bond or a permit bond, an insurance company surety bond. The insurer is Connecticut Indemnity Insurance Company, and Blois said he checked to be sure they have a favorable rating with the Insurance Commissioner's office.

LaBonte commented that he could never recall spending so much time discussing issues about a development and added that the developer should pay the additional fees and lawyer expenses that the town has incurred.

Blois said that the developer is aware of the additional expenses and has agreed to pay them. Maki concurred.

The board voted unanimously to approve the change.

Blois announced that the Screening Committee for the position of Police Chief has narrowed the field of prospective candidates from 18 to seven. The list includes two local candidates.

The first round of interviews will be held in closed session on January 23 and 27. The final, public interviews are tentatively scheduled for February 3, 4, and 6.

Not only is it a way of life, it is now considered by many recipients to be an ordained right, and by some, to be guaranteed by the Constitution!

A welfare reform plan proposed for New Jersey, rescinding welfare to women who become pregnant, is said by recipients to infringe on their right to procreation, and to penalize children. Hundreds of welfare mothers picketed the State House voicing their protests.

In Worcester, a homeless person who has been banned from shelters in Boston and Worcester because he fails to adhere to sanitary rules and has disruptive behavior, and who has refused help from an agency willing to find housing for him, will be accommodated at the Public Inebriate Program shelter in Worcester IF the Department of Mental Retardation provides an around-the-clock attendant at $18 an hour!

The National Consumer Law Center reports that average annual water and sewer bills in Boston will rise from $500 now to $1600 in the year 2000. The group advocates that a program of rebates is needed to offset the increases in low-income households.

National Health Insurance will be a major election issue this year. Many plans have surfaced. One would give low-income people tax credits to buy private insurance. Others advocate the Canadian plan which provides taxpayer-financed coverage to everyone. The "pay-or-play" plan requires businesses to provide insurance to their employees or pay into a government-financed plan. One plan provides tax-credits or vouchers to the 37 million unemployed who would then buy coverage. A Democratic plan would require employers to offer a core-group of benefits or pay a percentage of payroll to finance a public plan for all working or unemployed people lacking insurance.

In the opinion of Constance Horner, formerly No. 2 in the Department of Health and Human Services, "National Health Insurance would give us all the compassion of the IRS and the efficiency of the Postal Service - at Pentagon prices."

You ask, "Where does Santa Claus come in?" Every one of these plans will cost you more money in taxes or higher prices. There is no free lunch. If you're working and paying taxes you will be paying for those with lower income or for the unemployed. Should the homeless, the starving or the indigent go without basic services? Of course not. Should productive members of the community have to pay for them? Of course not.

We return once again to the need for an economic policy and program that will provide jobs for all, that will enable those on Welfare to be trained for a waiting job, that will enable workers to afford a home, and that will enable workers to pay for day care and health care. Eventually, the abundance of good paying jobs will foster the completion of education and diminish the lure of drugs and crime. And, not incidentally, a working United States will be a world-class competitor in the next century.

So Virginia, don't sell the reindeers and the sleigh just yet. But let all and sundry at home, in Boston, and in Washington know in loud and strident voice that you want an economic revival and that you are sick and tired of working to play Santa Claus!

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Last week was the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity and there was a prayer time in many of our churches and even one at Providence House. I was able to attend the first one at the First Congregational Church of Millbury and it was very inspiring. Unfortunately, I came down with a low-grade fever and was unable to attend any of the others.

In my own expository preaching, I am at Matthew 6 where Jesus teaches us about prayer. He tells us that it is possible to pray in such a way that we get the praise of others: long, lengthy prayers in some public place; letting everyone know when you pray. Many also repeat the same thing over and over again without giving it much thought or not putting their heart into it.

Don't let these negatives discourage you, because they hit me as much as anyone else. There is a positive side to prayer, and that is that we do have a God Who hears and answers our prayers. I am grateful to so many of you who have been praying for me.

When we pray, we usually close our eyes and bow our heads. That is so that everything else is shut out, but that is extremely hard to do. Jesus tells us to go into a closet and our Father who sees in secret will reward us openly. It is just you and God alone together.

In prayer, we are in the presence of the Living God, our Heavenly Father. It is through Jesus that we have open access to the Father, and that by the power of the Holy Spirit. We do not know what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit Himself makes intercession for us with deep down moanings and groanings. The Spirit knows both our hearts and the will of the Father and He brings them together.

Finally, we have to pray in faith believing. I always loved the story of the little girl who brought along her umbrella when they were praying for rain. We have not, because we ask not. Ask, and you will receive. Knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.

The drive will run from Sunday, February 2 through Saturday, February 8. Clothing and other materials may be dropped off at the Post Quarters every day between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m., or for pickup, call 865-2995. Clean out your closets and cabinets and help the homeless at the same time.

Caution Advised on Travel Brochures

WORCESTER - Area consumers who have received a special travel brochure advertising travel to exotic places for only $49 are advised to exercise caution before signing on. "If a slick brochure and a low price get your attention, check it out for accuracy before sending in money," says BBB president, Barbara J. Sinnott.

The Worcester Better Business Bureau office has received many inquiries about a recent mailing by Success Travel or Worldwide Travel & Tour that sounds exciting and cheap and implies endorsement of the offer by the Better Business Bureaus of Indianapolis and Miami. The improper use of the BBB name prompted calls to the bureaus in Florida and Indiana.

"Consumers should know that the firms are not members in Indiana and are under investigation by the Florida Bureau for unauthorized use of the BBB name. People have confidence in BBB members," Sinnott said, "but should always check to see if claims or membership are valid. BBBs do not endorse or recommend companies, and even BBB members are not allowed to advertise their membership except under specific restricted forms."

People who travel are advised by the BBB to do business only with a known and reliable travel agent or tour operator in order to protect themselves against disappointment and financial loss. If the offer is from a company unknown to you or your friends, contact the BBB in the city where the company is located to get a reliability report.

Read brochures carefully to understand restrictions, availability, extra charges, what is included, full cost of hotel or air fare, grade of accommodations, special condition prices, and cancellation penalties.

For a free brochure entitled, "Have You Won a Vacation? Tips on Vacation Certificate" send a business-size, self-addressed, stamped envelope to: BBB, P.O. Box 379, Worcester, MA 01601.

Amorello Announces $61,000 Reimbursement for Firefighting Costs

BOSTON - Senator Matthew J. Amorello (R-Grafton), has announced that Governor Weld's supplemental budget will include a $61,000 reimbursement of the fire fighting costs incurred by the City of Worcester and the 13 surrounding communities fighting the July 22 Worcester State Hospital fire. Amorello negotiated the amount last August. Millbury will receive $665 with Worcester receiving the largest share, $42,524.

"I am pleased that I was able to secure reimbursement to the City of Worcester and the 13 towns who answered the call to aid the City in battling the massive and threatening fire," Amorello said. "The substantial costs associated with fighting that fire came at a time when public safety budgets of all communities were stretched to the limit because of significant cuts in local aid. It is great the State was able to allocate $61,000 in the supplemental budget to pick up the public safety costs incurred in connection with the firefighters' valiant efforts."

Negotiations Underway for Additional Parking

BOSTON - The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority has begun negotiations to rent parking spaces from the Wyman-Gordon Company to help alleviate a shortage of spaces at the Park & Ride lot at Millbury's entrance to the Massachusetts Turnpike on Grafton Road. The announcement came from Senator Matthew Amorello (R-Grafton), who said many of his constituents have complained about the limited number of parking spaces available.

Amorello also said the MTA is reluctant to invest in increasing the parking at the Grafton Road entrance because the proposed Mass Pike/146 connector will include parking spaces for more than 300 cars. He said the authority doesn't want to spend money increasing the Grafton Road lot until they are able to ascertain what impact the 146 entrance lot will have on the parking situation.

petitioners to see if a middle ground can be reached. He said it is his gut feeling that if the bylaw gets to the floor as written, it will pass.

Morin said the Board will explore the possibility of modifying the proposed bylaw.

In another matter, Morin informed the Board that at present the Board of Health members are the animal inspectors because Dog Officer George Royal is part time and the part time Dog Officer resigned as Animal Inspector last November. He also said that in talks with Police Chief Handfield, it was agreed that temporary storage of animal carcasses can be arranged.

Board of Health member Tom Brown said the animals are usually taken to a state lab for testing.

Cristo suggested that the Board of Health work through Earl Chase and George Royal to clarify the duties for the separate jobs of Animal Inspector and Dog Control Officer since the duties are now split.

Center School

Following a 40 minute executive session to discuss strategy related to collective bargaining, the Board met with Maurice Boisvert of Y.O.U. Inc. of Worcester whose agency was the only bidder for a lease arrangement with the Town for use and management of the former Center School.

Boisvert explained that Y.O.U. is prepared to invest $205,000 in fitting up the building for use as a school for troubled youths and a community counseling center. He also said the agency is prepared to make repairs on the roof and, after 4 years, will replace the roof at an estimated cost of $75,000. Boisvert said that would require a two year extension on their lease with the Town.

Cristo expressed concern with the figure of $75,000 and whether it would be adequate for 1996 dollars.

Boisvert and the agency engineer, Ted Szkoda, indicated that it would be adequate as the cost based on present estimates would be $55,000 to $60,000.

Cristo said he would be more agreeable if the figure was tied to something like the Consumer Price Index. He also suggested that the Town be held harmless during that span of four years for any problems with the roof.

Boisvert was agreeable to this.

Cristo said he wanted to make it clear that the Town could break the lease if, at the end of four years, the roof doesn't get fixed. He also noted that the Town will be responsible for taking out the underground oil tanks as it converts to gas for heating.

Cristo also said that the proposal being discussed tonight was different than what was discussed with the two selectmen who were absent tonight, Roland Lachance and Bernard Plante. He asked for a 10 minute recess to call them for their opinion on the present proposal.

Upon returning, Cristo said he and Earl Chase had each spoken with one board member. Cristo said the member he spoke with expressed disappointment with the change that came up tonight. Chase reported that the other member said he felt he could not go along with the new arrangement as presented tonight.

Bleau then moved to accept the new arrangement as presented. Gauthier seconded the motion. The vote as recorded was 2-1 with Cristo opposed.

Boisvert said he now hopes to receive the approval of his Board of Directors. Once that is done, he will return to work out the specifics. "I hope we are off to a good start," he said.

Miscellaneous

- Earl Chase submitted a list of poll workers from the Town Clerk which the board approved 3-0. He also submitted a recommendation for approval of a bond for the collector of taxes which is an annual request. The amount of the bond is $120,000, based upon guidelines from the State. The Board approved 3-0.

- The board agreed to send a letter to the State D.P.W. asking again that they look at changing the speed limit on a section of Route 146 that shows an abrupt speed limit change in a short distance. Cristo cited a recent serious accident at Route 20 and 146 as his reason for taking another look at the limits in that area.

Croyden Street

The Board discussed briefly a letter from residents of Croyden Street who have expressed dissatisfaction with the recent relocation of street lights. The relocation is a result of the town's street light conversion program with Mass. Electric, undertaken as an energy and rate saving measure.

Gauthier said there are three lights on the street and that one at the intersection of Croyden and Durham Road is not really needed, nor is the additional one installed at the intersection of Millbury Avenue and Croyden necessary, he said, as there are now three street lights in close proximity to each other.

Cristo asked that the item be placed on the agenda under old business so Board members can view the area.

Correspondence

The board received a letter from Terry Burke Dotson, Chairwoman of the Planning Board, in response to a comment attributed to Selectman Roland Lachance in the December 12 report on the Selectmen's meeting in the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle entitled, "Board Reviews Concerns over T&G Waste."

The letter noted that the Planning Board held a public hearing in July, 1990, to consider the special permit application of the Chronicle Publishing Company (a.k.a. Telegram &Gazette). "The Planning Board required, under #7 of its Conditions of Approval, a contract as to the tipping arrangement with the Town of Millbury, Board of Health. The Planning Board imposed this condition as the means to address the issue of tipping. Since the Planning Board lacks the authority to impose conditions that another Board has authority over, the Planning Board saw this as the most rational approach. Our understanding is that the Board of Health has authority over tonnage and tipping."

The letter continued, "On September 5, 1991, Mr. Paul Shepard of the Telegram and Gazette sent a letter to the Board of Health indicating his understanding of interpretation of this condition based upon previous meetings with them. On September 11, 1991 the Board of Health sent a letter to Mr. Paul Shepard and stated 'We are in receipt of your September 5, 1991 letter and concur with your conclusion that no contract or tipping fee would be required of your company at this time.' Upon the Planning Board's receipt of this letter, condition #7 has been met.

"As for Mr. Roland LaChance's comment of 'I don't see we have a problem with the Telegram and Gazette. The problem is with the Board of Health and Mr. Hulseberg as to communication to us. That's the problem.' I do not see where the Board of Selectmen had any role," Dotson wrote. "The Planning Board completed its function and ensured that the project was completed to the Board of Health's satisfaction. Had the Planning Board or Town Planner been asked to attend your meeting to address this issue with the Telegram and Gazette, we would have been more than happy to clear the air on this issue."

A little neighborly help.

When you need help, a good neighbor will find a way to lend a hand. (In this case, a horse.)

And helping neighbors is what we do for a living.

The one goal of our independent community bank is to support our local communities, residents and businesses.

Your deposits are put to work right here where we all live and work. They're invested in loans to help the local economy and to create local jobs.

No distant office can order us to ignore the needs of our neighbors and to invest your savings somewhere else.

Nobody can tell us not to lend you a hand — and that makes us easy to remember when you choose a bank...

We're the neighborly one with the horse.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
6. Phone a friend.
7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
9. Hug a pillow.
10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Family Math Night at Shaw School

MILLBURY - The second Family Math Night will be held Wednesday, February 12, in the Shaw School Cafeteria. Registration is at 6:45 and the program will start at 7:00 p.m.

Over 100 children and their parents enjoyed the first Family Math Night in November. Grades K-3 had fun playing games involving estimation, measurement, and strategy. Grades 4-6 focused on ratios, graphing, and probability.

Family Math Night is an "hour's worth of playing with arithmetic." Children and adults learn problem solving techniques by spending a quarter hour on each of three games meant to develop math skills.

The Millbury School Connection sponsors this program and would like to thank all the volunteers who participated: Denise Sliwoski, Paula Woelfel, Cheryl Piasta, Ginger Rene, Betty Orsi, Debbie Harris, Mary Ellen DeCaro, Robin Janson-Dumais, Donna Lane, Erin Dromgoole, Kim Hueras, and Linda Nishan.

Sleigh Rally

SUTTON - Despite sub-freezing temperatures, many area residents enjoyed a ride in one of the wagons on hand for the New England Sleigh Rally held at Waters Farm on Sunday. Photo above is an entry from Country Meadow Farm in Millbury.
